

Bulletin and Newsletter Briefs

May 2007

prepared by CatholicCaregivers.com,

a program of the Friends of St. John the Caregiver (www.FSJC.org)

Caregiving is pro-life!

“They [family members] are dealing with the emotionally and physically draining task of caring for their loved one. . . . They need a great deal of love, compassion and encouragement.”

--Kathy Kalina, from Midwife for Souls (Pauline Books & Media)

Caregiving is pro-life!

“They [family members] are dealing with the emotionally and physically draining task of caring for their loved one. . . . They need a great deal of love, compassion and encouragement.”

--Kathy Kalina, from Midwife for Souls (Pauline Books & Media)

Caregiving is pro-life!

“If you aren’t a caregiver, become aware of what they are dealing with. Be more compassionate. Talk with them. Offer understanding and never underestimate the value of a smile.”

--Germaine Kirk, Catholic Charities, Diocese of Toledo

Caregiving is pro-life!

“If you aren’t a caregiver, become aware of what they are dealing with. Be more compassionate. Talk with them. Offer understanding and never underestimate the value of a smile.”

--Germaine Kirk, Catholic Charities, Diocese of Toledo

www.CatholicCaregivers.com

www.YourAgingParent.com

www.FSJC.org