

Bulletin and Newsletter Briefs

January 2010

prepared by CatholicCaregivers.com,

a program of the Friends of St. John the Caregiver (www.FSJC.org)

Caregiving is pro-life!

“As parents and caregivers, you have been chosen by God to bring His unconditional love to a child with special needs. Your child is a gift. We know that you need the love of God and your church community to surround your family.

“We, your church, want to help you with this journey in life. We encourage you to talk to a priest, deacon, parish advocate for disabilities, or a parish council member, to discuss ways to serve the needs of you and your family.”

--Diocese of Buffalo

Caregiving is pro-life!

“As parents and caregivers, you have been chosen by God to bring His unconditional love to a child with special needs. Your child is a gift. We know that you need the love of God and your church community to surround your family.

“We, your church, want to help you with this journey in life. We encourage you to talk to a priest, deacon, parish advocate for disabilities, or a parish council member, to discuss ways to serve the needs of you and your family.”

--Diocese of Buffalo

Caregiving is pro-life!

“Health care professionals encourage caregivers to take breaks in order to attend to things on their to-do list they’ve been putting off, but especially to take care of their personal needs and maintain their individuality. . . . When practiced regularly, respite helps keep the stresses of caregiving manageable and prevents burnout.”

--Lisa M. Petsche

Caregiving is pro-life!

“Health care professionals encourage caregivers to take breaks in order to attend to things on their to-do list they’ve been putting off, but especially to take care of their personal needs and maintain their individuality. . . . When practiced regularly, respite helps keep the stresses of caregiving manageable and prevents burnout.”

--Lisa M. Petsche